the quest for a cure and to raise awareness for the National Marrow Donor Program in the ongoing search for a match.*

Who is Amy's Army?

Amy's Army is a devoted group of volunteers dedicated to finding a stem cell donor who can help Amy.

Amy Katz was diagnosed with Chronic Myelogenous Leukemia (CML) in 2003. Her doctors have searched the world-wide registry for a stem cell donor and have failed to find a match. But the search continues .

The costs of providing Bone Marrow screenings are not covered by any health insurance. Significant funding is needed for recruitment of potential donors and to help defray the laboratory costs of testing for a donor match.
